Voters' Pamphlet

CLARK COUNTY WASHINGTON

Published by the Clark County Auditor's Office

Auditor's letter

Dear Clark County Voters,

Welcome to the 2013 Primary Voters' Pamphlet.

To make sure you receive your ballot, you must keep your address current with the Elections Office because the county has instructed the U.S. Postal Service not to forward ballots. If you need to update your address, please see Page 15 of this pamphlet for a Voter Registration form, go online to <http://clarkvotes.org> or call the Elections Office at (360) 397-2345.

You can return your voted ballot to the Elections Office by mail or deliver it to one of 17 secure, staffed drop boxes throughout the county on primary day. The ballot drop box locations are listed on Page 16 (back cover).

In addition, a red, drive-up ballot collection box is in the center of 14th Street about a block east of the Elections Department, 1408 Franklin Street. The drive-up ballot box will be available beginning July 17.

You may have received this pamphlet even if you are not eligible to vote in this year's primary. The guide has been mailed to all residents of Vancouver, Battle Ground, Washougal, La Center, the Washougal School District and the Clark County Fire & Rescue District, all of which have issues on the primary ballot. If you are eligible to vote in August, you will receive a ballot by mail.

Democracy works best when citizens participate in the collective decision-making process. I hope you will cast your ballot in the primary election on Tuesday, August 6, 2013. Every vote counts!

Sincerely,

Greg Kimsey
Clark County Auditor

Accessible voting

Using the eSlate

Clark County voters with disabilities have the option of casting a truly secret ballot using an accessible voting unit.

The eSlate accessible voting unit is a direct record electronic machine that allows voters with disabilities, including those who are blind, mobility impaired or lack upper-body dexterity, to vote privately and independently. The eSlate is in a booth that is wheelchair accessible. The photos to the right are of the eSlate, encased in its booth.

Beginning 20 days before each election this accessible voting machine is available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Clark County Elections Department, 1408 Franklin Street, Vancouver.

The elections department may be reached by taking C-Tran bus #25 Fruit Valley Route. You will be let off at Franklin Street and Mill Plain Blvd.

The photograph shows a close-up of the e-Slate.

About the accessible eSlate

The eSlate is accessible in six ways.

- For those who cannot operate the eSlate using the buttons and wheel, special interface devices are available as shown here.
- For those who cannot see or read the eSlate screen, use the headphones with volume control to hear the ballot.

The accessible eSlate unit is in a wheelchair-accessible booth.

If you are not in a chair but need to sit while voting, a chair can be used with the special booth.

Accessible features

- ✧ (A) Those who are blind, visually impaired, or have difficulty reading can listen to the ballot. The SELECT wheel is the trigger to the audio. Turning clockwise moves the listener through the ballot. To hear something repeated, turn the SELECT wheel counterclockwise.
 - Those using hearing aids with a telecoil mode may use their neckloop rather than the headphones.

Brian Joseph Smith

Vancouver needs clear direction and vision. The “Vancouver Comprehensive Plan 2011-2030” should focus more on Economic Development: industry and jobs. The proposed CRC project is not being presented clearly except with tolls and tax spending. Vancouver does not need light rail. Build two bridges to Oregon, generate industry, expand the Port, and construct smart buildings to bring in high-paying, long-term jobs to Vancouver.

I am working hard in business and will work hard for our community. By listening to what people need we will find solutions to be a smart city with clear direction and vision.

For twenty-one years I’ve loved living in Vancouver. It retains a small town feel with big city conveniences. Let’s keep Vancouver livable. I will promote priority budgeting to keep Vancouver safe, secure and make park maintenance important without burdening taxpayers further. Capitalizing on our established C-TRAN system without adding an expensive, inflexible and slow light-rail system is important to me.

I will promote economic stability through innovative business development creating family wage jobs. I will work to remove barriers for small businesses. Together we can put Vancouver first so families can thrive here.

It’s time for an independent voice to bring fresh ideas to Vancouver.

I’m not about special interests and personal agendas. I’m here to bring straightforward ideas to City Hall: responsible budgets, tougher crime control for a growing city, renewed focus on children and seniors. Vancouver residents are telling me they don’t want bloated, complex government projects – they want more jobs here in our city. I want new employers to see our city for what it is: a better place to live and raise our families.

It’s time to move beyond the leadership of the past. Thank you for your vote.

“Of the people, for the people” was the promise I made when first elected. I kept that promise. I want to continue working for you: maintaining open communication with citizens; protecting quality neighborhoods and schools; ensuring adequacy of police and fire protection; controlling taxes; requiring disciplined spending of City funds; protecting the environment; seeking compromise on current bridge proposal by eliminating tolls and seeking a third crossing; developing a progressive City mindful of spending priorities; and recognizing my first duty is sustaining the public trust by persistently and vigorously representing the interests of the citizens with your advice and consent.

Leadership means knowing when to do the right thing, even when it is the hard thing, knowing when to stand your ground against those that bully to take your rights away. Our economic model has long since reached the point of diminishing returns, and it is my generation and our children who will be stuck with an ever-growing bill. Rather than find a new way, many of our politicians continue to force the old model to suffice, which adds to our troubles. in the country, and join a generation of young politicians who are committed to taking government in a more responsible direction and crafting new strategies for a better future.

City of Battle Ground Council - Position No. 1

Richard Brown

Our city of Battle Ground faces unparalleled challenges brought on by the incumbent's apparent conflicts of interest. Throughout his 12 year tenure, the incumbent progressively supported property and utility tax hikes, the I-5 bridge tolls and voted for annexation of the Cedar's Community against the will of the people. I am an IT Engineer and entrepreneur committed to proven leadership principles to shape a family and business friendly city free from corruption, burdensome taxes and regulations. I support a moratorium on impact fees, a simple permit process to stimulate economic growth and a private-public partnership to build a community pool.
